

Advertisement from Newsweek July 30, 1.990.

Yes, of course. It's a matter of common decency.

Unfortunately, the veal industry says NO. In fact, agribusiness extremists even oppose reforms that would allow calves enough room to turn around and stretch their legs.

Those who oppose animal protection portray the issue as a choice between humans and animals. To help one, they claim others must suffer.

But such emotionalism is meant to divert attention from the real issue. Most animal abuse is simply a result of greed, ignorance, and utter disregard for the suffering of animals.

VEAL OF MISFORTUNE

"Milk-Fed" veal is obtained by making a calf anaemic. The calf is not fed mother's milk-nor is he allowed solid food. Instead, is fed an antibiotic-based liquid mixture that leads to severe diarrhoea.

The calf's entire life is spent chained in a small wooden crate.

Hour after hour. Day after day. Month after month. The day he is unchained-is his last day.

It doesn't have to be this way. Please join us.
